

The AgriBusiness Network

The Westfield AgriBusiness Network illustrates how the Westfield Commercial Lines Pursuit Index correlates numerous agricultural classifications into a niche segment of commercial insurance categorized as agribusiness. As one of the nation's 10 largest writers of farmowner business, Westfield Insurance has the capacity to competitively write farmowners, auto, package and workers compensation insurance for these classes of business that contribute to the food, plant and fiber producing system known as modern agriculture.

with cornfields, grazing livestock and barnyards — at Westfield, we see the bigger picture. We see agribusiness existing in cities and metropolitan areas through establishments that carry out food and plant production processes beyond the production farm level. The Pursuit Index and the illustration above serve as an overview of the agricultural market Westfield serves, but is not all encompassing due to unique ventures elevating the industry. Contact your Westfield underwriter with questions pertaining to potential agribusiness opportunities.

Despite the common misconception that agribusiness only exists in rural areas landscaped